

How To Measure Your Trucks

Your graphics will be custom-sized to fit your truck. Therefore, it is important that you provide us with accurate measurements of your truck's decal area. The decal area of your truck is not the overall height and length of the box. Please read the instructions below before measuring your truck.

Truck Sides - The graphic area does not include the top or bottom rails, or the front or rear corner posts. You are measuring the flat surface that falls within this frame.

Cab Door Maximum Area - The cab door maximum area is the largest rectangle you can measure on the cab door that does not contain a door handle or side-view mirror support bracket.

Truck Rear - The decal area does not include the top or bottom rails, or the posts on the side. You are measuring the flat surface that falls within this frame. We know that your rear will have a handle towards the bottom. You will need to let us know if your rear door has any other features that may interfere with the graphics (windows or vents).
